

DAN CORSON came to Boulder in 1973 to attend law school. He has served on city boards and city council as well as several nonprofit boards. His preservation experience includes Historic Boulder board and president in 1982, Landmarks Board chair, Colorado Preservation, Inc. board, National Alliance of Preservation Commissions [NAPC] board, and 17 years with the History Colorado Office of Archaeology and Historic Preservation. In 2015, Dan received the Secretary of the Interior's award in a ceremony in Washington, D.C. In his retirement Dan continues as a historic preservation commission trainer nationwide through the NAPC's CAMP [Commission Assessment and Mentoring Program].

LEONARD SEGEL is an architect with the Denver design firm, KEPHART. Born in Pennsylvania, he achieved a master's degree in architecture at the University of Michigan. After working in New York City for 8 years, he and his wife Rachel moved to Boulder in 1990. He has been involved with the following preservation activities: Founding board member of the Modern Architecture Preservation League of Colorado, Board member of Historic Boulder, Co-author of the "Historic Context and Survey of Modern Architecture in Boulder", and founding board member of the Colorado chapter of DOCOMOMO. Other Boulder activities include Golden West Senior Living, The Museum of Boulder and the Urban Land Institute.